

BOBOHOST.COM TRANSFORMS CUSTOMER FEEDBACK INTO VALUABLE UPGRADES

Translates User Suggestions into Tangible Customer Benefits

Chula Vista, CA June 24, 2009 – Why do people looking to establish or enhance their Web presence use Bobohost.com? One reason may be the way Bobohost.com continuously improves its products and services based on input from many customers who call Bobohost.com for help, or to suggest product improvements.

As economic conditions leave consumers searching for ways to save time and money, Bobohost.com has implemented a wide range of significant product upgrades and service enhancements. These improvements include upgrades for businesses looking to stretch their ecommerce dollars and individuals in need of additional disk space within their hosting accounts.

As more and more people look to create or bolster their online presence, Bobohost.com is expanding Web site building services too. For people who want to have their site developed without investing lots of time or money, Bobohost.com has introduced Create-it-for-me Web sites for those who want an informational site to target customers.

Bobohost.com also introduced an Unlimited Hosting package designed for power users who need more disk space and bandwidth. Unlimited Hosting is available on both Windows and Linux.

Another time-saving tool from Bobohost.com is a new integrated product suite which allows users to quickly switch between Website Tonight, Quick Shopping Cart and Quick Blogcast. This integration is aimed at business users who want to build a complete online presence, including ecommerce, using Bobohost.com's simple-to-use products.

Email has grown into an important communication tool for individuals and businesses. Now Bobohost.com offers an email plan with unlimited storage space and IMAP. The company also launched two new Hosted Exchange email plans with BlackBerry support.

To review Bobohost.com's products and services, please visit www.bobohost.com